

What is a film capacitor?

Film capacitors are manufactured from a coated plastic film. The advantages of this type are high ripple current capacity and inductance, a very long life and good temperature resistance up to 105 °C. FTCAP offers film capacitors in many versions and performance classes.

Does ftcap offer film capacitors?

FTCAP offers film capacitors in many versions and performance classes. And there is hardly a housing form that we do not have in our product spectrum: you will find the right film capacitor for every installation situation. Mersen is a global expert in electrical power and advanced materials for high-tech industries.

What are the properties of dielectric films for film-foil and metalized electrodes?

Dielectric films for film-foil and metalized electrode professional grade capacitors exhibit stable properties through a range of temperatures (-40 °C to +150 °C) and frequency, including stable capacitance, good insulation resistance, stable dielectric constant (Dk) and low dissipation factor (Df).

What are the different types of capacitors?

Metallized capacitors production. Dual-layer metallized and plain film winding. Film-foil capacitors (with dielectric and foil stacks to 10-layers). Winding on fixed and collapsible cores. Winding ability from 0.157" to 6" wide material widths, and diameters from 0.100" to 6" with or without center cores on automated winders.
