

What is a solarfox display?

Solarfox displays provide a unique way to present solar PV data. The changeable and editable screens allows organisations the ability to show off the generation of their solar PV system, along with other data such as savings & CO₂ impact. Wagner Renewables are the UK distributor for Solarfox displays.

What are public solar displays?

Public solar displays complementing well-known solar monitoring systems for photovoltaic plants and facilities. I hereby accept the data protection regulations. Fields marked with an asterisk * are mandatory.

What is power-display?

Power-Display is dedicated to monitor renewable energies from photovoltaic, solar thermal, hydroelectric, geothermal plants. Power-Display can be installed inside a building or outdoors.

What data does power-display show?

Power-Display shows the following three main data: Upon request we can add other data fields: photovoltaic implant's days of working, tons of oil saved, daily energy production, solar radiation, time, date, outside temperature and other weather data. Links and interfaces Power-Display can be connected to inverters, energy meters and data loggers.

How many data sources can be displayed on a solarfox display?

In this way, several sources (PV systems) can be visualised on one display. Please note that a maximum of 2 additional data sources can be added to the SF-100 series. Solarfox displays can show the output data of various photovoltaic and/or production systems.

What is a power display & how does it work?

Power-Display can be installed inside a building or outdoors. It allows the owner to monitor its efficiency and primarily it informs the public of the existence of the implant and its efficiency in terms of energy and carbon dioxide emissions avoided, and then it highlights the contribution that the implant provides for the environment protection.
