

Are solar panels taxed?

If you have installed solar panels on your property primarily for personal use, FiT payments are generally not taxed. However, if your solar panel system was installed with the primary purpose of generating income, you may need to declare these earnings to HM Revenue & Customs.

Do I have to pay income tax if I generate electricity?

Where the generation tariff is received by an individual, other than in a business capacity, and it is not chargeable as miscellaneous income, no Income Tax liability will arise. This will usually be the case where an individual generates electricity mainly for use in their own home.

Are electricity sales taxable?

This includes both sales of exported electricity and any Feed in Tariff. Any income from a domestic installation at a let dwelling is taxable (even though capital allowances are denied). The principal incentive for residential landlords is to improve the EPC rating (but your tenant will appreciate the lower energy costs).

How do solar panels earn money?

A large portion of potential solar panel earnings comes from the government's generation tariff, which is part of the Feed-In Tariff (FIT) scheme. Under the generation part of this scheme, you receive a fixed rate of income for each kWh of electricity you generate.

Is a generation tariff liable for income tax?

A generation tariff received in a private capacity, which is not chargeable as miscellaneous income, will not be liable to Income Tax but the reduced cost of electricity should be reflected in the cost of electricity attributed to business use. An export tariff is payable for electricity exported to the wider energy market.

What is a generation tariff?

A generation tariff is payable by reference to the electricity generated. The tax treatment of the tariff for Income Tax and Corporation Tax purposes will depend on the nature of the receipt in the hands of the recipient. In general where the receipt is received in a business capacity it will be a business receipt on normal principles.
